TO A MISSIONARY.

Go, herald of salvation—
Go, messenger of bliss,
To every heathen nation,
With messages of peace.
Illume with living splendor,
The lands in midnight gloom;
Array in matchless grandeur,
The wastes that never bloom.

Go, heal the sick and dying—
Go, be the wanderer's guide;
Go, lead the soul that's sighing,
To Bethlehem Calvary's side.
Go, bid the star of morning,
From Bethlehem's forest shine
And barren wastes adorning,
Illume with light divine.

An Illustration of the modern way of saying

John, wilt thou have this woman for thy wife,
And love her well and truly, all thy life?
Said John, with nod intended for a bow,
"I won't have any body else, I vow."
And for a husband wilt thou have this youth,
And love him with fidelity and truth?
His Reverence said unto the lovely she,
Who blushing answered, "Yes, sir-ree."

CIRCUMSTANCES ALTER CASES.

BY MISS M. E. WENTWORTH.

It was astonishing what deferences Mr. Lynn More received from the many worshippers of Belville, after an absence of two years, from his native town. Invitations to parties and balls, were showered upon him from all quarters, and seats in church tendered him by persons, who, ten years ago, would have as soon, cared that he stayed out doors, during the services, as in the house. A vain man, would have had his head turned by these attentions—an unobedient one, been at a loss to understand what made the difference in his position, now, and his past standing in Belville.

Lynn More was neither vain, or unobedient; and as there had been no material change in his personal appearance, he could not but think that the apparent devotion of the good people of Belville, had something to do with the fifty thousand dollars for which he had come back the possessor.

It was true, that he had lived there, and been neglected—shunned and slighted by the friends with whom he had associated; and all this, when he possessed the same soul that he now did, and been actuated by the same feelings and principles, and enjoyed the same perceptions and senses. What could have made the difference?—Now, his society was courted as an additional attraction to Belville; flattered by the rich, and fawned upon by the servile.

To trace his eventful history, and show how apt human nature is to regard the outward man and its adornments, as superior to the heavenly ornaments of the inner spirit, is the purpose of this sketch.

Lynn More was the only surviving child of a widower, whose hard-earned wealth, and position in society, ought not to have been easily lost. His son was a bold, active, and handsome boy, educated by his father, a diligent and sagacious lawyer, till his seventeenth year, and then entered at college, to prepare for a profession. In the ardor of youth, Lynn More assigned four years for his collegiate course, and three for the study of a profession; and travels in Europe. In no case was the utility of earthly calculation ever more fully confirmed, or met with more bitter disappointment. Two years of his college course were scarcely passed, when Lynn More was called to the death-bed of his father.—His sorrow was sincere, and he returned to his studies, feeling that he was an orphan in the loss of a father, who had been doubly dear to him, in singleness of affection, and in the absence of a mother's love. His guardian was an ambitious man, money making, and not over scrupulous about the means by which he accomplished the great era of his life—the amassment of wealth.—He represented to Lynn More the necessity of investing his funds in business, where it might return him a handsome income, and laid open before him the speculation in cotton, at the South, in which many capitalists were engaged. Lynn More submitted the whole to the judgment of his guardian, and his property was, risked in the purchase of an extensive lot of cotton, designed for an importing house in London. The vessel was dashed in pieces in a terrible storm, and the captain and crew barely escaped with their lives. No less than five millions of dollars, were swallowed in the yawning chasm of the sea; and many were left in poverty, who had looked forward to this event, to become much more wealthy.

SCHOOL COMMITTEE'S REPORT.

The Public School Committee, in making their Annual Report to the Town, are happy to state that the Public Schools are increasing in usefulness; that the Teachers are faithful to their trusts; that the scholars are generally obedient and willing to learn, and that the whole system is working well. Much has been accomplished—much remains to be done.

There are in the Town, thirteen schools, viz: four Grammar Schools—one Intermediate School—seven Primary Schools—and one of mixed character for colored children. There are fifteen Teachers for the Schools, who, before they are chosen, are subject to a thorough and critical examination; and your committee are confident that the Teachers are fully competent to discharge their several duties. The Schools are fitted to accommodate eight hundred and twenty scholars.

During the past year, your Committee have established two primary schools, one at the corner of Broad and Marlborough streets—the other in Thames street, at the lower part of the town, near the Woolen Mill, both of which were filled as soon as opened, without transferring scholars from the other schools.

Your committee are aware that the room used for a primary school in Cannon street is in every way, unsuited for the purpose; the ceiling being low, and the floor of unequal height—but from necessity they are compelled to make that use of it; besides that, there is no yard attached to it, and the town is indebted to the kindness of individuals, in the neighborhood, in administering to the wants of the scholars. The same may, in some degree, be said of the school near the Woolen Mill. The wants of each school are supplied on sufferance only.

Your Committee have, from time to time made diligent and thorough search for proper school rooms in that part of the town, but owing to the great and increasing demand for tenements there, they have been unable to provide better than those now used.

With these facts in view, your Committee respectfully suggest to the town the necessity of building a school house near Bowery street, calculated for two or more schools, to supply the growing part of the town.

Your Committee would also respectfully but earnestly urge upon parents and guardians, the absolute necessity of the punctual attendance of the scholars at the schools. The large number, (sixty) of scholars in each school, requires that each school should be divided into classes. If one scholar is absent one day, or only part of a day, he disorganizes the whole school; his whole class gets in advance of him, and to make good his deficiency the teacher must give the time to one, which is due to the whole class. If one from each class is absent one day, and others from the same classes, other days, (which is too often the case,) the progress of the school is stopped—the school is in a state of rest, discouraging to the teacher, and almost of irretrievable loss to the scholars.

Your Committee, therefore, most seriously urge the consideration of this subject to parents and guardians, and that they will not let light and trifling causes detain their children from school—besides, it is also doing great injustice to those parents, who punctually send their children to school, which children are deprived of the full benefit of the means of education provided by the town from the neglect of others who seem to attach so little importance to a subject of so much interest. There are cases of necessity requiring absence of these your committee do not complain.

Your Committee have from time to time endeavored to correct this evil, and with some success, but they are well assured that no effectual remedy can be had, unless parents and guardians will cordially co-operate with them for this purpose, and consequently they now make this earnest appeal to them.

Your Committee would further urge upon parents and guardians, to visit the schools often, to take an active interest in all that relates to them, and to impress upon their children the importance of order, obedience and diligence when in school.

In conclusion, your committee present their accounts of money received, and their expenditures—

Receipts—
Amount received from the State, $1,766 59
do do Town, 2,000 00
do do Registry tax, 300 00
do do School tax, 383 40
Balance from old account, 230 60

Expenditures—
For Salaries, $3,416 25
Rent, 107 50
Fuel, 93 11
Stationary, 553 02
Incidental expenses, 465 02

Balance on hand, $162 86
All which is respectfully submitted,
For the Committee,
June 2, 1846. WM. GILPIN, Sec'y.

For the Newport Daily News,
TO THE BEAUTIFUL LADY OPPOSITE.

Here's a health to thee, dear lady,
Who dost my heart so move
I worship at thy virgin shrine
And drink thine eyes of love
So gaze upon the fairest one
And do not quickly part
The beautiful image of thy face
Is stamped upon my heart.

I'll look at evening's quiet hour,
Upon thy face divine
With ardent hope that thou wilt be
Still I say—only mine!
Thy gentle smile of love will cheer
My loneliness in life
And thou wilt be my guiding star,
Until thou art my—

Old father Hodge was a queer dick; and in his own way, made every thing a subject of rejoicing. His son Ben came in one day and said:
"Father, that old black sheep has got two lambs."
"Good," says the old man, "that's the most profitable sheep on the farm."
"But one on 'em's dead," retorted Ben.
"I'm glad on't," says the father, "it'll be better for the old sheep."

"But father's dead too," says Ben.
"So much the better," rejoins Hodge, "she'll make a grand piece of mutton in the fall."
"Yes, but the old sheep's dead too," exclaims Ben.
"Dead! dead! what the old sheep dead!" cries old Hodge, "that's good, dear Sir, she was always an ugly old scamp."

On Conscience.—When we look at a field of grain, we find that those stalks which raise their heads highest are the emptiest. The same is the case with men. Those who assume the greatest consequence have generally the least share of judgment and ability.

As many of ye as is present will say here, and as many of ye as is not present will say absent, said an Irish sergeant to his company.

It is supposed that there are not a hundred young men in the United States, who have not been fighting at least once in their lives.

So says an exchange, but we very much doubt the truth of it.

NEWPORT DAILY NEWS

FRIDAY, JUNE 5, 1846.

THE RANGEROES OF MEXICO.—The Rancheros of Mexico, forming the best part of the material of the Mexican armies, are well described by one of our exchange papers, as "half Indian and half Spanish in their extraction; badly educated, though muscular in their frames, and dark and swartly visaged as they are; these men are the Arabs of the American continent. Living half of the time in the saddle, for they are unrivalled horsemen with lasso in hand they traverse the vast plains in search of the Buffalo and wild horse. The killing of these animals, and the preparation and sale of their hides, are their sole means of livelihood. Their costume generally consists of a pair of tough hide leggins, with sandals of the same materials, bound together with leathern thongs, over which is a blanket with a hole in the centre, large enough to allow the head to be thrust out, and which falls not ungracefully over their shoulders, leaving ample room for the play of their arms. Add to this a broad straw sombrero, and the lasso hanging ready for use in his girdle, and you have the Ranchero, as he appears in the time of peace. Join to this a long lance with a sharp spear head, and his belt plentifully supplied with pistols and knives, and you have the Ranchero as a member of a troop of banditti, or a soldier in a body of cavalry. Their power of enduring fatigue is almost inexhaustible, and a scanty meal, porridgie, of jerked beef and plantain, suffices them during months. These are the men who comprise the great body of the Mexican cavalry, and they are to the armies of that nation what the Cossacks are to the Russians—ever on the alert, never to be surprised, and unflinching in the pursuit of the foe, when plunder, no matter how trifling, is to be obtained."

DISONOR OF BABE.—In the U. S. Circuit Court, at New York, on Tuesday morning, the District Attorney read a letter from the Secretary of State, to the effect that the President was not aware of the other indictments against the prisoner for piracy, murder, &c., but he considers that he has power to pardon before conviction. The letter suggested the propriety of entering a Not. Pros., which was done, and Babe set at large.

GREEN CORN has made its appearance at Charleston, S. C.

HON. CASSIUS M. CLAY, has raised a volunteer company, in Kentucky, for the Mexican war.

GRACE CHURCH, Providence, was dedicated on Tuesday last. There was a large attendance of Bishops and Clergymen.

By reference to another column, it will be seen that Dr. Vose has opened his neat and beautiful Ice-Cream establishment, at the head of Tupper street. He has the reputation of making excellent Creams, and keeping one of the best establishments of the kind, in the country.

THE HON. THOMAS F. MARSHALL, commander of the 4th company, in the First Regiment of Kentucky Volunteers.

BEWARE OF ROOM MATES.—A man was robbed of $400, by a stranger who was put in the room with him, in a hotel at Newark, N. J.

NEW HAMPSHIRE LEGISLATURE.—This body met on Wednesday last. After taking the oaths from the Governor, the House proceeded to ballot for Speaker.

Whole number 260
Necessary for a choice, 131
Henry B. Rust, dem., had 1
George G. Fogg, ind. " 2
Samuel S. May, dem., had 118
John P. Hale, ind. " 139 and was elected.

For Clerk, Thomas J. Harris, abolitionist, had 140, and was elected. O. K. Sanborn, Independent, or Haysite, was appointed assistant Clerk, without a ballot.

There appears to be a firm union among the whigs, abolitionists, and Haysmen, and leaves no doubt that Gen. Colby, whig, will be chosen Governor, and John P. Hale, U. S. Senator.

The three democratic and two abolition Senators met the House in convention, and filled the vacancy in senate district No. 3, by choosing James U. Parker, in No. 5; Wm. W. Rollins, in No. 6; Artemas Harmon, Timothy Abbott, in No. 7; Nathan Kingsbury, in No. 9; Francis Hamilton, in No. 11—all whigs. So that the Senate stands, democrats 3, whigs 6, abolitionists 2.

There is a school-mistress in New South Wales, whose letters are thus addressed:—"Mrs. Love, Harmony House, Concord, near Kissing Point." We should think she would have an army of pupils, if there is anything for nuptials.

It is said that Major General Scott declines going to Mexico, to take command of our army, and that a fort correspondence has recently been carried on, between the General and the Secretary of War, on the subject.

CORPORAL STREETER, of the Boston Star, is unable to raise a pair of whiskers, so he is out against them in very severe terms. Will not some one send him a lot of guano to enrich the soil?

FROM THE SEAT OF WAR.

U. S. SHIP, BARITAN,
May 10, 1846.
The report here is, that there is a French and English fleet of thirty sail now lying at Vera Cruz, with little ostensible view of protecting their commerce. I have no hope of this ship returning until Vera Cruz is taken. The Mexican troops that recently arrived at Matamoros, left Vera Cruz before we did. The Commodore got wind of the movement, so he was off in a moment.

May 17.—Our expedition up the river is probably knocked in the head, and all our valor and patriotism has still to be put up aboard ship. This is too bad—I did want one brush with these gentlemen; but I suppose Gen. Taylor has now men enough, and will not allow the poor wretches to share the laurels.

I cannot vouch for the report. The vessels cannot remain on this station during July and August with safety, as these are the hurricane months. We had a small taste of one last week.

May 18.—Eight boats from the Cumberland and Potomac—four from each—left this morning, on an expedition up the river.

RUMOR.—The Washington correspondent of the New York Tribune says, under date of the 1st:

There is an important rumor this morning, and somewhat prevalent yesterday, that the Administration are about to make a peaceful termination of the Mexican difficulties. I know not how true this may be, but the opinion is prevalent among the Senators of the President's party, that the Mexican difficulties are on the eve of an amicable adjustment.

A PROBLEM FOR THE AMERICAN CHURCHES.—During forty years of missionary labor, forty thousand pagans have been gathered into the fold of Christianity, under the preaching of American Missionaries. The average increase of slaves in this country is about seventy thousand a year; whom to teach to read the Bible is a penal offence. Now, if one thousand pagans are annually evangelized abroad, and seventy thousand native Americans heathenized at home, required the time when the knowledge of God shall cover the earth as the waters, said a Christian Churchman.

Three of our large manufacturers, Messrs. McCullough, Dupont and Wippeny, have received Commissions from the United States, for the manufacture of 60,000 yards kerseys, and 20,000 yards blue cloth, for the use of the U. S. Army.—Phil. North American.

RE-OPENING OF THE UNITED STATES CLOTHING STORE.

A still greater revolution in the sale of READY MADE CLOTHING. New Store and new Goods, at the old stand, where the public have been favored with so many good bargains. 91 Thames street, one door north of Messrs. W. B. & E. J. SWAN'S.

THE PROPRIETOR of this Establishment has the pleasure of informing the people of Newport and its vicinity, that he has leased the new and commodious store, 91 Thames street, for the purpose of carrying on the Ready Made Clothing Business, where the public may be assured that they will always find on hand the largest assortment of Clothing and Furnishing Goods in the place, as well as the lowest prices. If I can but induce the people to call upon me, I will give them the most positive proof of the truth of this assertion, as I am determined to secure for the United States Clothing Store a tremendous run of custom, and aware as I am, that competition is so severe, that the only mode of success is to offer my Goods at a small advance on Cost. Will the people call upon me? I will give them the most positive and pleasing evidence of what I say; still more, I will not urge them with undue persuasion to purchase what they do not want. The custom of forcing goods upon people has become so prevalent that they are sorely perplexed to know where they can go and be allowed the use of their own judgment in selection of Goods. In order to secure the chambers, early application should be made, to
